Community Access National Network Launches Covid-19 Survey for People Living with HIV/AIDS

*Online survey unveiled with the ADAP Advocacy Association,
Community Education Group, HealthHIV and Legacy Health Endowment*

WASHINGTON, DC (February 9, 2021) – The Community Access National Network, also known as CANN, today launched an online survey on Covid-19 for people living with HIV/AIDS. The survey is designed to gain some insight on how Covid-19 is impacting HIV-positive individuals in the United States. It is being conducted in collaboration with the ADAP Advocacy Association, Community Education Group, HealthHIV and Legacy Health Endowment.

“Whether or not POZ folks have tested positive for the coronavirus, we want to hear from them about their experience,” summarized William E. Arnold, President & CEO of the Community Access National Network. “It will give us a glimpse into on how Covid-19 is impacting our community.”

The survey is available at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/KCWRSBT>.
